A Message From the Rector

My Dear Friends:

St. Patrick of Ireland, Bishop and Missionary

The Feast of St. Patrick, Bishop and Missionary, and Patron Saint of Ireland, is celebrated each year on March 17, the day on which Patrick died around A.D. 461. He is probably the only Christian saint that is given such prominence and celebration annually in our country and other parts of the world. For not only is Saint Patrick's Day the national holiday of Ireland, but it is also widely celebrated in the U.S., Canada, Great Britain, Australia, and New Zealand. Department stores usually showcase items, usually in the color, green, which mark the day. No other patron feast bears such distinction in the secular or commercialized world.

Although I am not Irish, it is a memorial day for me since it is the anniversary of the death of my paternal grandmother. She was the only grandmother I knew because my maternal grandmother died before I was born.

But who really is St. Patrick? Patrick was not born in Ireland but on the northwest coast of Britain, in the late 4th century, sometime around A.D. 390. He was born into a Christian family, with his grandfather being a priest and his father, a deacon. His father was also an important official in the Roman imperial government of Britain.

At the age of sixteen, Patrick was captured by a band of Irish slave-raiders. He was taken to Ireland and forced to serve as a shepherd. When he was about twenty-one, he escaped and returned to Britain, where he was educated as a Christian. In about A.D. 431, through a vision, Patrick felt called to return to Ireland as a missionary, having been ordained a priest and bishop without being assigned any known diocese at the time. He would arrive not far from where he settled when he was captured before, near what is now known as Downpatrick (a "down" or "dun" is a fortified hill, which was the fortress of a local Irish king).

Although Christianity was present in Ireland at the time, Patrick began the process of missionary conversion throughout the country that continued until his death. He confronted and eliminated the pagan rites of the Druids, making Christianity more widespread, established monasteries, churches, and schools, had crosses carved on old druidic pillars, and placed sacred wells and springs under the protection of Christian saints. It is also believed that St. Patrick used the shamrock, a three-leaf clover, as a way to explain the divine Trinity. It would become the national plant of Ireland.

St. Patrick is said to have established his principal church (cathedral) at Armagh, which is regarded as primatial diocese of all Ireland. The name of the principal church is, you guessed it, St. Patrick's Cathedral. It is the seat of the Anglican Archbishop of Armagh and Diocese of Armagh, but was originally the site of a Celtic Christian monastery, said to have been founded by St Patrick.

The popularity of the celebration of St. Patrick's Day is believed to have begun by immigrants, particularly to the United States, who transformed the day into a largely secular holiday of revelry and celebration of all things Irish. The celebrations became a way for large numbers of Irish immigrants to connect with their roots after they moved to America. Parades were held as early as the 18th century in Boston and New York, and since 1962, Chicago has colored its river green to mark the holiday. It should also be noted that blue was the traditional color associated with St. Patrick, however, green is now commonly connected with the day. The wearing of green clothing or clothing with a shamrock is common attire for the day. Corned beef and cabbage are associated with the holiday, and beer is sometimes dyed green to celebrate the day.

We give God thanks for the life, work, ministry, and service, of St. Patrick of Ireland, Bishop and Missionary.

Collect for St. Patrick

Almighty God, in your providence you chose your servant Patrick to be the apostle of the Irish people, to bring those who were wandering in darkness and error to the true light and knowledge of you: Grant us so to walk in that light that we may come at last to the light of everlasting life; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever. Amen.

With love and blessings!

Father Tony

Deacon's Report

I wrote at some length about Kairos Prison Ministry in my last month's report. I think most of you have some familiarity of this ministry and my extensive involvement with Kairos for over 10 years. I am also the Pastoral Care Coordinator and the Administrator of the TRUE fund, to which I devote considerable time. But I give the most time to Kairos, especially this month. We have our Kairos 54 weekend March 16- 20, a full three-and-a-half-day weekend.

We will provide this weekend to 36 residents of Martin Correctional Institution in Indiantown. I am asking you to provide very tangible support of Kairos at this time.

Some people are already helping us. Dara did two posters for the weekend. They will be put up on during a talk called "You Are Not Alone," when we put up multiple posters from all over the world to let residents know that they are not alone. Of course, many prisoners feel alone.

In addition, we present them with a large prayer wheel that has signed slips of paper showing when people will pray for them, throughout the entire weekend. I will have prayer slips for you all to sign in Houg Hall.

Each volunteer is asked to present money to Kairos to pay for expenses during the weekend, especially food for residents throughout the weekend. The food we buy gives residents a break from the barely adequate food they get in the Dining Room. Our objective for the entire weekend is to bring to them the transforming love and forgiveness of Jesus Christ, which significantly changes their lives in the institution and when they are released.

We recently received a letter from one of the residents who was released last year after attending our weekend in March 2022. He stated that his experience with Kairos made a significant change in his life. He is now working and attending AA meetings regularly. He attributes all the positive changes in his life to Kairos.

A recent study shows that prisoners who attend Kairos have far lower recidivism rates than those who don't go to Kairos.

In God's love,
Deacon Alan

Graham Johnson (l), Noah D'Antico (c), and Ben D'Antico (r) show their mite boxes which they decorated.

The children are deeply immersed in the Lenten season. They have decorated their mite boxes and have taken them home. During Lent, they will be adding coins to their mite boxes.

On Easter Sunday, the children will decorate the Easter cross with their mite boxes. All monies collected will be used to fund a project for the church. We are discussing what project we can do.

Meanwhile, each Sunday we will talk about how we can become closer to Jesus through our actions at home, school, and community.

Father Tony greets everyone attending as the High Tea begins. Tables are set with fine china from each table hostess.

Our February meeting for the Women's Fellowship was our High Tea. 96 people attended and over 30 men and women helped to make the event a huge success.

With delicious tea sandwiches, scones with strawberry jam, platters of sweet cupcakes, cookies, and candy and the final Triple Berry Trifle Walk, it turned out to be not only a fun but delicious event! Gary Beckett's background music added a touch of elegance to the event.

Many thanks to Marilyn Mazsa and Christina Bliven for organizing the event and for Louise Andrews' expertise in helping to run the kitchen. Diane Dougiello and Lee Smith did a wonderful job turning Houg Hall

Our next meeting will be March 18 at 9:30 in Houg Hall. We will have a guest speaker from LAHAI who will tell us about their nonprofit organization. This is one of the organizations that we donate money to.

Please remember, your president and vice president are retiring. If you are

Endowment / Heritage Society

COME ONE, COME ALL!
The All Saints' Endowment Board is sponsoring an evening of fun, facts and fellowship. THIS Friday, March 3rd, we will meet in Houg Hall at 5:30 p.m.

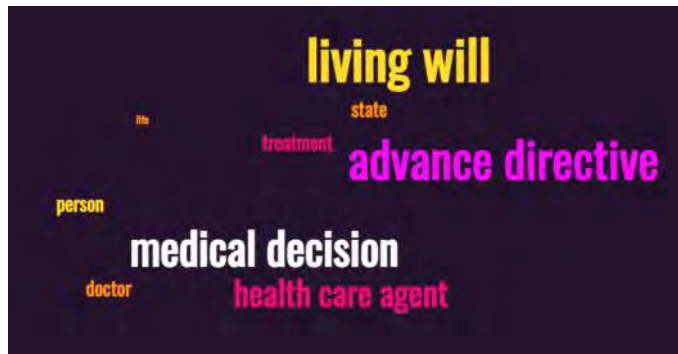

After drinks (wine and non-alcoholic choices) and heavy hors d'oeuvres, John McHugh will be our guest speaker to provide information and answer questions about property, wills, trusts and estate planning in general.

Even if you don't need to hear about property and wills, come for the fellowship and the food!

As always, this event is sponsored by the Endowment Board and no funds from the Endowment are used for this event nor for the banquet detailed below.

This reception is open to the entire congregation and we hope to see you there. If you are not a member of the Heritage Society, which totals over 60 local living members (over 80 including those in memoriam or who have moved away), this would be your opportunity to learn more about funding the long term goals of All Saints' and the annual projects the Endowment provides to help raise awareness of our church and its mission.

In past years, using only the interest/growth paid on the Endowment, we have helped fund such projects as the church sign by the road and the audio visual enhancements to our services that allows them to be viewed on our YouTube channel and Facebook page. This was a

"Godsend" during the pandemic. We will have a sign-up table after our two services in the weeks preceding the reception. Hope to see you there!

BUT WAIT—THERE'S MORE! On Saturday, March 25th at 5:00 p.m., members of the Heritage Society are invited to a dinner and program entitled "The Ashley Gang — the Saints Meet the Sinners."

If you don't know, the Ashley Gang was a group of bank robbers, moonshiners and general outlaws who operated in northern Palm Beach County (which became Martin County in 1925) in the early 1920s. They also had a softer side and helped start several churches in our area and were known to distribute food for those in need.

The annual Heritage Society Dinner is sponsored and funded by the Endowment Board to recognize those who have contributed to our endowment. This year, the event will be held at the Elliott Museum.

The entrance fee is being underwritten by the Board and dinner at the onsite restaurant is included. After dinner, we will have a guided tour of the museum, including their Ashley Gang exhibit, hosted by local historian and expert on the Ashley Gang, Steve Carr.

We are encouraging members to come in costume so you can unleash your inner flapper, dandy, school mar'm or alligator hunter! It will be an evening to remember and is one of All Saints' signature events of the year.

If you are not a member of the Heritage Society, February would be an excellent time to join so you can participate in this evening and get your leaf on the Tree of Life on display in Houg Hall. Please ask any Endowment Board member for details.

The Tree of Life in Houg Hall:
Join the Heritage Society and get your own leaf on the tree!

There are several ways to join including a onetime payment, spreading out your contribution over one or two years, or by designation in your will, retirement documents or life insurance beneficiary form.

All of your contribution remains in the Endowment investment account, securing the future and good works of All Saints'.

As you can see, your Endowment Board has been busy and will continue to act on behalf and for the benefit of All Saints' Episcopal Church, throwing in a little fun while we're at it!

Peering Into the Past

In September 1973,

“All Saints in Jensen Sets Schedule:

“Getting to Know You” will be the theme for the women of All Saints' Episcopal Church in Jensen Beach. The program is geared toward getting first-hand knowledge of the faith and practices of other Christian groups in the area. The church, whose pastor is the Rev. Frank Alvarez, will begin its fall service schedule Oct. 7. Holy Eucharist will be at 7:30 a.m.; Sung Eucharist, sermon and Sunday school at 9:15 a.m., and the Holy Eucharist and sermon at 11 a.m. each Sunday.

“Two women's groups are involved in the parish — All Saints' Guild, which meets on the second Tuesday of each month at 1 p.m., and St. Ann's Guild, which meets on the second Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. Among the speakers scheduled throughout the year for both women's groups are the Rev. Neil Gunsalus, of Trinity United Methodist Church of Jensen; the Rev. Fr. Michael Sullivan, assistant pastor of St. Joseph's Church of Stuart; the Rev. Clinton Martow, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Stuart; the Rev. William Schepman; pastor of the Church of the Redeemer of Stuart; the Rev. Robert J. Barman and the Rev. Richard Gray of the Stuart First Presbyterian Church, and the Rev. Craig Pooser, pastor of the Holy Faith Episcopal Church of Port St. Lucie....”

Holy Faith Episcopal Church is on the east side of U.S. 1, just north of the River Park, Port. St. Lucie residential area. The seeds were sown for the creation of this congregation in early 1964. Mr. and Mrs. John Hermann and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Heine, members of All Saints were part of the founding members.

At that time St. Martin de Porres Catholic Church had not been established, and Trinity United Methodist Church wasn't built on Savannah Road. All Saints was right where it is today! Thanks be to God!

All Saints' Cemetery

We welcome Antonio D'Antico to our Cemetery Maintenance Staff!

Antonio lives in the cute cottage across the street from Coffey Hall. While Antonio has his salvage business, he's now part of the All Saints' Cemetery family and joined our staff.

Antonio's sons, Ben and Noah are in our Sunday School. Weren't they too cute in last month's Trumpet?

He lives in the house that belonged to his great-grandparent Russ and Minnie Bolton. His great-grandmother, Minnie Bolton, is interred in our Cemetery.

“Russell R. Bolton, 97, of Jensen Beach Fla., died yesterday at his daughter's home in Providence, R.I. He was the husband of the late Minnie R. (Brown) Bolton. His first wife was the late Emma H. (Babbitt) Bolton. He had lived in Florida 35 years, previously residing in Providence for 60 years. Mr. Bolton was a Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. agent for 25 years and also was a fishing guide in Jensen Beach, retiring only seven years ago. In Jensen Beach, he was a member of the Anglers Club.”

While it didn't make his obituary, he was also a fishing buddy of All Saints' fourth rector,

Garden Happenings!

Saturday morning, Feb 18

I made a quick trip out to the garden, but it was several hours later when I was looking at the Garden Tea Party raffle baskets when I overheard this conversation:

“Wow Greta; this is a great tea party! I like that we dressed up proper for the event, but where I wonder, did you get those wonderful scones? Maybe they will give me some for my trip.” Jackson said to Greta.

“I have friends that very often share with us.” Greta answered smugly. I was surprised she was keeping her source a secret, and was happy that was so — for some reason, I just did not want to share more of the scones, yet.

But then I heard Little One pipe up. “That was the Garden Whisperer!” I sort of chuckled; Little One is honest and openly friends with all who pass by. So it did not really surprise me that he would answer the question Jackson posed. But then I chastised myself for feeling stingy and not wanting to share more scones. I had heard Louise say there were more scones than we needed, and some of those yummy looking cupcakes as well; so I made a mental note to check in the kitchen after the tea to see if there were leftovers.

Then I went back inside Houg Hall. There was so much going on with the basket raffle, I almost missed the critters that had snuck in the door and were hiding in the indoor garden made by Louise, Diane & Lee.

Sunday, Feb 19

There were many gathered in the breezeway, and Father Tony's sermon was a topic. There were a few were unaware, until his sermon, that it was the 124th anniversary of the consecration of this building. It was pointed out that it is a place to worship, and we thank God for the building; a spiritual home. But it is the people that make it a church. It is the people that witness to God's goodness and share God's love with each other. It is the people that are sent out into the world to share God's reconciling love for the world. We gather here but the space does not define us.*

As we moved into Houg Hall, the group started listing the things we were involved with as witnesses to that love. It was a good thing I was listening; because later when Freddy and Jackson were arguing about our church and our mission, I stopped and sat on the bench by the pond.

Now, I'm not sure exactly what I said; but I began to pray. My words were softly spoken asking for forgiveness and then asking God for energy to carry out His plan for me as a member of this family at All Saints'.

Then whispering was coming through the garden. I know one of the voices was Greta's asking Groggy to continue teaching her about God and how to witness to others. Dear Draco, that very smart mayfly up in the tree called out once again. "You are God's children, HE loves you. Listen and pray, and you will learn every day." As I stood to leave, I heard Groggy say: "All of us need to focus on how we can share God's love and be reminded of that redeeming love every day."

On my drive home, I thought about the Thrift Shop and Bethany quilt ministry, the food bank donations, and Deacon Alan's prison ministry. I thought about the Men's Fellowship and the Women's Fellowship, the folks that care for the gardens and grounds of our campus and then about Greta, Groggy, Bea and Little One, Draco, and even Freddy and Jackson. I thought about the scholarships for Jensen Beach High School students, and Sunday Church School and Vacation Bible School, and Father Tony's Bible Study classes. I thought about the mission of sharing our worship services on line and about the newsletter. I thought about the Daughters of the King, the kitchen crew, Louise's work to keep Houg Hall functioning, and the people that visit with folks not able to come join us on a Sunday. Then I thought about the staff at All Saints': Father Tony, Michael our retiring music minister, Jenny the office manager, Dara the receptionist, the vestry, the staff and board of the cemetery as well.

Both Draco's and Groggy's words came back to me: "You are God's children, HE loves you. Listen and pray, and you will learn every day." And: "All of us need to focus on how we can share God's love and be reminded of that redeeming love every day."

All I could do was say: "THANK YOU GOD!"
