A Message From the Rector

My Dear Friends:

Pope Francis, the Roman Catholic pontiff, met with Bishops, Priests, Deacons, Consecrated Persons, Seminarians and Pastoral Workers, at St. Stephen's Cathedral in Budapest, as part of his apostolic journey to Hungary. He delivered a sermon on Friday, April 28, 2023, and I would like to share excerpts of his address with you.

"I thank Bishop Veres for his kind introduction, in which he expressed the desire of Hungary's Catholics in these words: "In this changing world we want to testify that Christ is our future". Christ: it is not "the future is Christ" but Christ is our future. We cannot interchange the two. This is one of the most important things demanded of us: to interpret the changes and transformations of our time, seeking to meet pastoral challenges as best we can. With Christ and in Christ. There is nothing beyond the Lord or too far from him.

This is possible by looking to Christ as our future. He is "the Alpha and the Omega... who is and who was and who is to come, the Almighty" (Rev 1:8), the beginning and the end, the foundation and the ultimate goal of human history. In this Easter season, as we contemplate the glory of the One who is "the first and the last" (Rev 1:17), we can face the storms unleashed upon our world, the rapid pace of social change and the crisis of faith affecting our Western culture without yielding to resignation or losing sight of the centrality of Easter. The risen Christ, the centre of history, is indeed the future. Our lives, for all their frailty, are held firmly in his hands. If ever we forget this, we, clergy and laity alike, will end up seeking human ways and means to defend ourselves from the world, either withdrawing into our comfortable and tranquil religious oases, or else running after the shifting winds of worldliness. In both cases, our Christianity will lose its vigor, and we will cease to be the salt of the earth. Let us return to Christ, who is the future, so that we do not fall into the shifting winds of worldliness. That is the worst thing that could happen to the Church: a worldly Church.

These are the two approaches – I might say the two temptations – against which, as a Church, we must always be on guard. The first is a bleak reading of the present time, fuelled by the defeatism of those who insist that all is lost, that we have lost the values of bygone days and have no idea where we are headed... Then there is the other risk, that of a naive reading of our time, based on a comfortable conformism that would have us think that everything is basically fine, the world has changed and we must simply adapt without thinking critically about it. This is bad. So, to combat a bleak defeatism and a worldly conformism, the Gospel gives us new eyes to see. It gives us the grace of discernment, to enable us to approach our own time with openness, but also with a spirit of prophecy. In a word, a receptivity open to prophecy... spirit, a receptive and open attitude with prophecy in the heart.

Receptivity with prophecy: it is about learning how to recognize the signs of God in the world around us, including places and situations that, while not explicitly Christian, challenge us and call for a response. At the same time, it is about seeing all things in the light of the Gospel without yielding to worldliness, as heralds and witnesses of the Christian faith. Pay attention to worldliness.

Falling into worldliness is perhaps the worst thing that could happen to a Christian community....

I want to assure you that good pastoral ministry is possible if we are able to live as the Lord has commanded us, in the love that is the gift of his Spirit. If we grow distant from one another, or divided, if we become hardened in our ways of thinking and our different groups, if we think only of ourselves, our ideas and our theologies, then we will not bear fruit. It is sad when we become divided, because, instead of playing as a team, we start playing the game of the enemy: it is the Devil who divides. He is a master at it; it is his specialty. We see bishops not communicating with each other, priests in conflict with their bishop, older priests versus younger ones, diocesan priests versus religious, priests versus laity, Latins versus Greeks. Issues about Church life, and political and social problems, polarize us and we become entrenched along ideological lines. Do not let ideologies in. The life of faith, the act of faith cannot be reduced to an ideology: this is from the Devil. No! Always remember that our first pastoral priority is to bear witness to communion, for God is communion and he is present wherever there is fraternal charity. May we overcome our human divisions and work together in the vineyard of the Lord! May we immerse ourselves in the spirit of the Gospel, grounded in prayer, especially in adoration and listening to the word of God, and cultivating ongoing formation, fraternity, closeness and concern for others. A great treasure has been placed in our hands; let us not squander it by chasing after things that are secondary to the Gospel!

Here, I would like to say the following: be careful with gossip, gossip among bishops, priests, sisters and lay people. Gossip is destructive. It seems to be a very beautiful thing, a sweet candy. We often fall into it. Be careful, because it is a path of destruction. If a consecrated person or a lay person avoids speaking badly of others, this person is a saint. Follow this way of avoiding gossip. "Yes, Father", one may comment, "but it is difficult and at times one slips". There is a beautiful remedy against gossip: prayer, for example. There is another remedy: bite your tongue. Bite your tongue and no gossip. Are we agreed?

The primary style of God is an attitude of closeness. He said it himself in Deuteronomy: "Tell me, which peoples have their gods as close as I am with you?" The attitude of God is closeness, compassion and tenderness. This is God's style: closeness, compassion and tenderness. Let us follow this style. That is what is required of us all... a merciful gaze and a compassionate heart that forgives always, that helps others to begin again, that accepts and does not judge or send away, encourages and does not criticize, serves and does not gossip.

This attitude is our training in receptivity, a receptivity that is prophecy: bringing the Lord's consolation to situations of pain and poverty in our world, being close to persecuted Christians, to migrants seeking hospitality, to people of other ethnic groups and to anyone in need... This is the Church to which we must aspire. A Church capable of mutual listening, dialogue and care for the most vulnerable. A Church welcoming to all and courageous in bringing the prophecy of the Gospel to everyone."

I hope we will take the Pope's message to the Hungarian people to heart and let it be our message also, and to act accordingly.

With love and every blessing!

Father Tony

Deacon's Report

One of my primary responsibilities as the Deacon of our church has been Pastoral Care, which I have been doing ever since I decided to become a deacon.

Part of my work is to oversee the licensed Lay Eucharistic Visitors. Many of them are doing an excellent job in visiting members of our church who are unable to attend our services either long-term due to age or disability or temporarily as they recover from illnesses.

Pastoral care is an integral part of our church. Its name comes from shepherds who take good care of their sheep, similar to what we do with our church members. They tend to the needs of all the sheep, strengthening the weak, feeding the flock. They move sheep along in their ability to function independently.

In our churches, we are expected to care for all the members. We help all of our members who are in need. Caring for each other is the responsibility of all our members, which I think all of us at All Saints' do extremely well. We are a very caring church. I hear from members how caring and friendly we all are.

I want to acknowledge the work of three of our Lay Eucharistic Visitors. Jack Miller has been visiting multiple members in both their homes and in assisted living facilities. I commend him highly for this work, as he has met with three of our members in one facility and continues to see them weekly.

Joyce Menard also has been active visiting Janet and Fred in their assisted living facility and offering support to them and their family. She and other Lay Eucharistic Visitors also make sure if they can't visit, others fill in to take their places.

Elyta Watkins has been taking communion regularly to an elderly, longtime member of our church.

Pastoral Care is one of our biggest strengths as a church, and I know it will continue to be. Please let me or Father Tony know of others we can visit. No matter how hard we try, someone can be missed. Also, sometimes reaching out to members in need by phone can be just as meaningful as bringing them communion.

In God's love,
Deacon Alan

LeDuc Fund Scholarships

The LeDuc Fund, a part of All Saints' Episcopal Church's community outreach program, awarded a total of $36,000 in college scholarships to five members of the Jensen Beach High School Class of 2023.

Chevrolets are part of the lineup at the Men's Fellowship Antique Car Show and BBQ.

A beautiful sunny day graced the campus of All Saints' Episcopal Church, on a recent Saturday, for the Mens' Fellowship Antique Car Show and BBQ.

It was the second of two annual fund-raising events produced by the Mens' Fellowship, for the benefit of the Church. A breeze, provided by the Saint Lucie River, helped maintained the coolest environment under a long tent shading the guests from the warm sun.

Car owners opened the hoods to show off well maintained engines.

Vacation Bible School

Vacation Bible School (VBS) is scheduled 9 a.m. to noon starting on June 19 through June 23. It's free for children who are 5 years old through fifth grade. Please let your family and friends know about this wonderful program.

Some may wonder why we go all out for our VBS. Well, we want our children to experience R.E.A.L. life change! That is to say: Relational, Experiential, Applicable and Lifelong.

Relational is about person-to-person interaction which enhances spiritual growth and builds Christian friendships.

Experiential because what we experience through action and discussion sticks with us much longer than when we simply hear.

Applicable because the aim of Christian ministry is to equip people to be both hearers and doers of God's word.

Lifelong learning takes place because experiences transform the heart, moving faith beyond the walls of

This year's theme is "Stellar," which focuses on Shine Jesus' light. We have five days of action-packed adventures for the children, each day is based on a Bible verse.

John 8:12
This Bible point is celebrated by 'Cosmos' who definitely has star qualities.
2. "Live in harmony with each other."
Romans 12:16
3. "Shout with joy to the Lord, all the earth."
Psalm 100:1
4. "Don't let your hearts be troubled. Trust in God."
John 14:1
5. "Let your good deeds shine ... so that everyone will praise your heavenly Father."
Matthew 5:16

We will celebrate God's Greatness on June 19-23, 2023, from 9 a.m. to noon.

If you know of children between the ages of 5 and 5th grade, tell their parents about this meaningful free adventure!

All Saints' Sunday School

The children had a wonderful time celebrating Easter together shouting, "He is risen! He is risen indeed!"

Our activities began in the church where they worked together decorating the Easter Cross with fresh flowers. The cross looked beautiful! Plus, we had a surprise visit from Caroline, Bryce and Branden Forman who had moved back to New Jersey last summer. They were visiting their grandparents, Bart and Donna, and it was so nice to have them back!

During Sunday School, the children watched a video about Holy Week and Easter and then put their creative hands to work with many Easter project choices.

Of course, the big event was the annual Easter Egg Hunt! Fourteen children were able to find more than 400 eggs in about eight minutes! It was a mad dash, and everyone wound up with a basketful of colorful eggs! Many thanks to the Women's Fellowship for donating plastic eggs and candy!

Our nursery is providing developmentally appropriate "toy" fun, music and story time. We are rotating our nursery caregivers every fifth week. So far, we have only one little fellow, Owen Johnson, who attends the nursery. We could use more volunteers! If anyone is interested in this worthy ministry, please see Karen Neff.

Our last day of Sunday School will be May 21, and we will resume on September 10, the Sunday after Labor Day. Of course, church services will still be going on, so I hope to see our children in church in between summer trips. And don't forget Vacation Bible School the week of June 19–23. It is always such a fun and memorable event!

Spread the word to your family and friends about our wonderful Sunday School Program!

Thanks!

Daughters of the King

*Alleluia, Christ is risen!
The Lord is risen indeed, Alleluia!*

What greater love is there than what our Lord did for us? It is Agape Love; the highest and broadest kind of self-giving love.

The Daughters of the King (DOK) hosted an Agape meal for members of the parish after the Maundy Thursday service. About 50 members attended this ancient tradition of fellowship. The meal was an example of living out Jesus' commandment that we love one another as He loves us. There was a spirit of harmony and goodwill throughout the evening.

Our Daughters of the King chapter members pray diligently to our risen Lord for the All Saints' Church family, its' clergy and ministries.

Our intercessory prayer list is always changing and confidential. If you or someone you know are in need of prayers, let a DOK member know. We wear a Greek Fleury cross as you see in the picture.

Our May meeting for members will be Monday, May 1, in the church building. It will be our last meeting until the fall, but we continue to pray throughout the summer months.

On Sunday, May 7, we will celebrate our 39th year as a DOK chapter at All Saints' by having corporate communion at both the 8 a.m. and 10 a.m. services. For His Sake!

All Saints' Cemetery

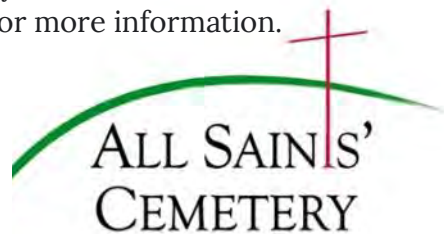

For Historic Preservation Month, All Saints' Episcopal Church's historian, Joyce Fletcher Menard, will offer tours of the Church building and Cemetery, from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Friday, May 5; Saturday, May 6; and Friday, May 12; and Saturday, May 13.

The formation of the Church, the erection of its' building, and the Cemetery, will celebrate 125 years of existence. We will be conducting free tours of the Church edifice, although donations are appreciated. The church tours will run continuously and are 35 -45 minutes.

Self-Guided tours of the Cemetery will feature the early pioneers, veterans, and other noteworthy persons who are buried in our historic cemetery. Booklets, highlighting these persons, will be on sale at $15 per copy to support the 501(c)3 All Saints' Cemetery preservation efforts.

Both tours start in the church at 2377 N.E. Seaview Drive, Jensen Beach.

Call Joyce Fletcher Menard at: 906-201-1328 (cell) for more information.

Heritage Society

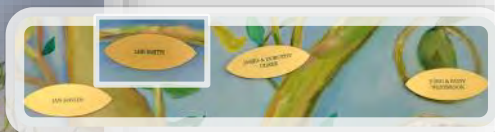

Just as the spring leaves appear on the trees, our Tree of Life also has new leaves to honor our 2023 Heritage Society Members.

The Tree welcomes Jan Davids, John and Patsy Westbrook, Dorothy and Jim Ulmer, and Lee Smith.

Our last meeting was a productive one. We reviewed our very busy and successful March events so they can be made even better next year. Since we are coming upon a significant anniversary for All Saints', it would be great if we could incorporate the content of our reception and the Heritage Society Appreciation Banquet to reflect all the church has become in its 125-year history.

More significantly, Duncan Hurd gave a presentation to the Board about the importance of updating our church website to better inform our members and spread the word of our wonderful All Saints' to people new to the area and those just searching for a church home.

The Board voted unanimously to fund the startup costs for the website of $3,850 as one of our projects for the year, funded by the income and interest on the Endowment investment account. Our charter states that money must be spent to enhance All Saints' visibility in the community and support the mission statement of the church "to spread the Gospel of Jesus Christ through worship of God, service to His people and stewardship of His gifts."

We think the church's new website will do just that, and the Endowment Board is happy and privileged to do our part to make this happen, for the benefit of us all.

Women's Fellowship Secretary, Iris Langran; Vice President, Sandy Miller; and President, Karen Neff, are looking for new officers for those seats.

Our April meeting began with a discussion about to whom we could donate the funds we raised. It is such an important part of our organization – giving funds to very deserving non-profits in our area and the world. We will have a comprehensive list at our May meeting and then decide.

We had a great time at the Men's Fellowship BBQ and Antique Car Show. Not only were we able to bake more than 250 brownies for the dessert end of the BBQ line, but we also held a "Flea Market" made up of art and items that had been gathering dust in the St. John's Room. We made $450 to add to our donation funds!

I was able to do a short presentation about this summer's Vacation Bible School, "Stellar – Shine Jesus' Light." We are registering children now. Tell your neighbors and friends! Vacation Bible School will be June 19-23 for children 5 through fifth grade.

Women's Fellowship Treasurer, Louise Andrews, shares a report.

Our next meeting will be May 13, a week earlier than the regular date of May 20 due to precious Christina Bliven's funeral. I know we will all want to be there. During the meeting, we will make our final donation decisions and also vote for our new Women's Fellowship president, vice president, and secretary. Everyone please attend! See you all at 9:30a.m. on May 13, in Houg Hall.

Garden Happenings!

Recall that our younger friends took off on a hike. Bea, the Red Bumble Bee accompanied the three adventurers to keep them safe from cars, go-carts and bicycles when they crossed the road. She also made sure there were no dogs or cats prancing or prowling around when they arrived at their destination. Do you remember where they were headed? The Thrift Shop!

Jackson heard that Miss Diane had put out Easter decorations and that there were many folks across the street in that garden. I couldn't stand not looking for them; so over to the Thrift Shop I went. Let's start near the church building.... I hear Bea and Greta talking.

Greta is asking Bea: "Are you sure they are alright? I haven't heard anything from them since they left."

"Buzz" Bee replied: "I told you they were fine. They were looking in the window the day after I helped them across the street. The next day they were visiting with the other garden residents. And you know there is no mail service between gardens! It's me, the Garden Gnomes or the Garden Whisperer. I don't think anyone else will be bringing you news. Buzz, before you ask, the Garden Gnomes are in that garden; and if you are patient, I'll ask them to visit sometime. Buzz."

"Ahem!" Groggy either woke up or decided to put in his 2 cents: "I think it entirely appropriate for us to celebrate the resurrection of Jesus, the Christ. I especially liked Father Tony beginning Easter morning service in the dark; before dawn. I never like to smell a charcoal fire. Fire scares me. But they appeared to have everything under control and then he or Deacon Alan called out "The Light of Christ!"

Draco put in a few words: "I remember someone reading about a courtyard fire and Peter denying even knowing Jesus. I think all the followers were afraid. As you said Groggy, even now, there are times we are afraid. But the lighting of the fire was to remind us Christ is our light in the world. It was dark out and they lit a taper and a fire ... then the words just made sense to me – that was a powerful tool."

"Oh yes," Greta piped up: "I remember a Bible verse: 'I am the light of the World.' I think it is a quote of words spoken by Jesus and written about in the Gospel of John" (John 8:12 and 9:5).

"Well, the Bible mentions 'light' many times, but the important part is we need 'to be in Christ' to be resurrected from our sins and be in relationship with God. I think there are many who are just marking time. If they would open their Bible and read it, if they would spend time in prayer, they would be much closer to God. And perhaps God would be in them and that Light from God would show... I'm sure that is why the disciples did not recognize Jesus when he first appeared to the women and then to the men that had been his closest followers. They had allowed the evil one to creep into their thoughts – they were in despair.”

Groggy sounded like he knew what he was talking about, but I'm not sure the others were buying into all he said.

Bea was the first to pull herself out of deep thought:

“I'm going to fly around and see if I can tell what those 3 adventurers are up to. And just so you know this, Groggy; I listen to all the services here at All Saints' Church and they read scripture at every one!”

“Good idea!” said Greta, as she winked at Bea.

I took my cue from them and quietly walked toward my car. But I couldn't help myself... I went closer to see what they were up to at the Thrift Shop. That's when I saw a new sign in the store. In I went—boy did I get a shock! If you have not been there recently – you need to make that a stop some week day between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m.!

Bea was buzzing all over and could not find Jackson or Little One. I stopped and talked to Freddy who was having a talk with ... (Oh my,) with a chick.

“Freddy, make sure you tell Bea; the boys are in the shop. She is flying all over looking for them. Oh, Hi, Bea, did you hear me? Bea answered: “Buzz. Yes and thank you I was worried.”

Freddy answered me: “I think we will be headed home soon – no rain and no pond make this frog pretty dry!”

That comment really made me laugh! I waved goodbye and left for the day. On my way home it started to rain—and we had a lot of rain! Hmm, I thought, I guess Freddy is now all wet.

A couple of days later I was back to check on the gardens and I heard Miss Diane say: “I didn't see any of them in here.”

Apparently, she found out she had some of our friends visiting the Thrift Shop. I could see both Freddy and Jackson outside; but not Little One. So into the store I went. You simply must visit the store! There is so much to see – and three levels of shopping! WOW!

Then ever so faintly I heard: “Garden Whisperer; Please help me! I've fallen over and can't get up. My sign is holding me down.” It was Little One!

Well, that began my hunt... I found him! Have you been in the store? Did you see Little One?

They sure are having an adventure! Hope they come back to the other side of the road soon!

Donate your pop tabs

All Saints parishioner Tom Sinagra has started a collection of pop tabs to help Ronald McDonald House Charities of Central Florida.

Pop tabs are the little aluminum tabs from all kinds of cans, including soda, some pet food, beer, canned fruits and vegetables.

By collecting them, we keep that much aluminum out of the landfills and practice stewardship of God's natural resources. We also help Ronald McDonald House Charities care for families of children needing critical care and keep families close to their children receiving medical care.

Once the pop tabs are collected, they are taken to be recycled in exchange for money to support the children and families served at Ronald McDonald Houses.

There is a basket with a bag of pop tabs in Houg Hall left of the door as you enter. Please collect bags of them at home to bring to church.
